High School Health Program Major Part of Curriculum

Following is the second article in the series "Know Your Torrance High School" written especially for The Herald . . .

By THOMAS H. ELSON
Principal of Torrance High School

How's your health? Torrance high school takes this salutation seriously. In fact health is one of its major interests. As a rule the public only hears about this interest when special emphasis is given some special phase of it. One of these emphases will occur from Oct. 22 to Nov. 15, when Traveling Dental Unit No. 3 is here to take care of work which students can't afford to pay for. The school nurse will have all these cases ready to report for service previous to that date.

The school nurse is getting to be quite an institution herself. She spends one day a week at the high school looking after health problems. Doctors are here on an average of once a week also. With the nurse to help follow up, the San Pedro Clinic available to those who cannot afford to pay for special service, and with the splendid cooperation of local practitioners we feel the ground is thus pretty well covered.

Study Good Posture

This year an attendant has charge of our rest room and sun room where girls who are ill or cannot take regular gym lie down for an hour. This service together with milk furnished for nutrition cases has done much for our girls. The P.T.A. meets the nutrition expense for those who cannot afford it.

Another special health emphasis will be given Good Posture Week to be observed Oct. 7 to 11. The follow-up on posture is taken care of through special exercises assigned for home practice or in our especially equipped corrective room. "Round shoulders," fallen arches, spinal curvatures and the like are given special attention.

Daily inspections are made for colds and contagious diseases by the nurse and health committee which also coordinates all health activities outside the physical education department. These include special instruction in diet and dress in the Home Economics classes, physiological matters in the Science department and pure foods instruction in Consumer Education classes.

Most of our patrons are acquainted with the daily exercise program of the physical education classes. These are the foundation of the entire health program. Daily exercise under expert instruction, followed by shower baths, health advice and counsel, are available to all able to take them.

The Girls' Athletic Association and Junior Athletic Club sponsor various types of health activities. Honors on a point system basis are their awards. About four play days per year are participated in where several schools combine for interschool contests.

The boys' athletic program is too well known to require special comment.

Yes, "How's your Health?" means a lot at Torrance high school.

(The third article in the "Know Your Torrance High School" series by Principal Elson will be published next week.)

Doctors Hear Discussion of New Drugs

Five Torrance physicians attended the regular monthly meeting of the Southwest branch of the Los Angeles County Medical Society last Wednesday night at the Hollywood Riviera clubhouse. The local members present were Drs. John W. Beeman, C. E. Easley, W. I. Laughon, Norman A. Leake and A. P. Stevenson.

Dr. Rosenberg of Long Beach, discussed physical chemistry and toxicology of sulphamide and related compounds, a class of drugs which are the most recent contribution to the medical doctor's therapeutic equipment and hailed as the greatest contribution to scientific medicine since introduction of salvarsan as a therapeutic agent in treatment of syphilis.

Dr. Fred Clark of Long Beach spoke on a clinical aspect of therapy of the disease in which the drugs are most useful and after a short business session the meeting was concluded with a buffet lunch.

BUILDING HOME
Wilford Walton of 1719 Marina avenue is building a six-room frame stucco residence with garage attached at 1415 Acacia avenue for $4,250, according to records of the building permit issued him this week.

ARRESTED HERE
Clay Trice Thomas, 27, of 2075 Torrance boulevard, was arrested here Saturday for Bakersfield authorities who took him north for questioning in regard to several robberies in Tulare and Delano, according to police reports.
